TCC Anniversary Book

The club's book is now finished and ready to be printed. I have been in touch with the publishers again, but their final offer is still 40% with Free Shipping. This makes each copy of the book £50.08.

I have a list with people's names on who have already ticked to say they want a copy. If anyone else wants a copy before I order, please let me know as soon as possible.

I will also need payment before I place the order so I will give details for this on Monday night.

Notices

We need volunteers on camera club nights to help set out the chairs before the meetings. If we have a pool of helpers, you would only need to help two or three times a year.

We also need volunteers to help with practical nights over next years programme. If you feel you can help, then please speak to a committee member.

The RPS have just opened a new spacer in Bristol and is currently showing the International Photography Exhibition. See <http://www.rps.org/visit>

Thornbury Camera Club "The First Fifty Years" - Thornbury Museum

The aim of the exhibition in Thornbury Museum to celebrate the clubs 50th anniversary is to:

- cover the developments in photography over the last 50 years
- display some of the equipment used
- generate interest in photography in the local community
- display some of the club members work particularly with reference to the Thornbury area
- appeal to all ages and raise awareness of the club.

The target audience is the general public as well as enthusiastic photographers.

We are looking for any interesting equipment, both cameras and accessories, that may have been used by both club members and others over the last 50 years, so everything from a Kodak Instamatic to a Leica!

We are also looking for prints to show some of the work that has been produced by club members, we will have to be selective because of the available space but we may be able to rotate prints for the duration of the exhibition.

The exhibition will be mounted after the Arts Trail has finished about the 12th May and will run for at least 3 months (dates TBC).

If you can:

- loan any equipment
- offer printing of information panels to exhibition standards (A3 and possibly A2)
- offer any ideas or material for information boards
- mount and exhibition
- suggest anything!

please get in touch with John Shepherd or any other Committee member.

All equipment will be displayed in locked glass cabinets and the museum is protected by intruder and fire alarms.
